THE WESTERN CAMPS.

CHAPTER V.

In company with Mr. Warner, the land-surveyor, we visited the site of the new town on the Venado Tuerto. It will be distant about a league from Mr Turner's land, and will be surrounded by chacras, which will be sold on cheap and easy terms by Mr Casey, who has already received numerous applications for the purchase of these farms. Two years ago had any one asked us our opinion as to the probable success of founding a town in so remote a district, we should have smiled with distrust and ridiculed the idea; but the change which has come over these Venado Tuerto lands within the last two years is so astounding; the evidence we had on all sides of the power of capital and industry converting in 24 months the wildest camps of La Plata into comfortable homes and well fenced and well stocked estancias all these proofs were so complete that we shared in Mr Casey's enthusiasm, and most willingly accepted his prophecy that before another two years were about a fine town would spring up on this site, and 5,000 'chacareros' would give to it business, commerce and vitality. Everything in the line of progress seemed possible in these camps, such was the tremendous change which we recognised in the place since our visit there two years ago.

There is so much speculation at present going on in lands, such a push amongst brokers to sell square leagues in the most out-of-the-way places, such a programme amongst capitalists to buy cheap and sell dear, that we for our part feel much hesitation in addressing a subject surrounded with interests that ungenerously may be connected with our remarks; but we disclaim every motive in writing about these camps save that of affording to our readers sound, practical, and reliable information. It may be that we are in error, but our conviction is sincere, the country is taking a new departure, and people who now let slip the opportunity of securing at cheap prices some of these frontier lands will probably never have the opportunity again. The sale of the Venado Tuerto lands, but two years ago, was sneered at and laughed at by many, but everyone who bought at that sale has had good reason to rejoice at the purchase, and, viewed from a certain stand point, we may admit that there has been no other sale in this country to rival it in importance—75 square leagues of land that lay idle in the hands of the Provincial Bank of Rosario, and but for the enterprise of Mr Casey might still be a withered property yielding no return to the bank, Government, or individual, is now converted into numerous productive estancias bounded, wire-fenced, 'noriaed' built upon, and stocked with cows, sheep, mares and horses; nay, more, at Mr. Turner's estancia, there are fields of maize and alfalfa as smiling as any to be seen at Quilmes. The Belgian estancia, a few leagues further down on the land, we are told, is a still more important establishment, and 1,500 mestizo Durhams roam at large on that camp, whilst along the road that leads from Molinoue we met families in bullock carts, following their sheep and cattle, and all bound for these fresh lands which Mr. Bullrich knocked down in his 'patio' some two years ago.

Heaven bless the movement and give to it the most unexampled success. If the sequel of this Loreto land auction prove similar to that of the Venado Tuerto, these hundred leagues of Loreto lands, the 'invernadas' of the Indians for three centuries, if subdivided amongst small sheepfarmers and estancieros, will add so much to the productive power of the country that we fully believe President Roca's prediction of 28,000,000 of cows in the River Plate before another ten years are about will be realised. On all sides of the country there is the same progressive power at work, but there is a certain sound political economy in the programme of those men who take up large tracts of land, split them into small estates, and sell them on long credits to those whose chief capital is honest toil and working industry. The merchant in his office in this city, the Governor at the Government House, even the President in his chair of office, all have a pledged interest in the success of this new estanciero programme. We for our part shall back it up with book and pen, heedless of the sneers of those who have missed the great wave of prosperity that swept over this country within the last two years, and who for ought we know are bound down by their co-partnership deeds 'not to marry in the country' or 'purchase property outside the Barracas Bridge.'

THE CHUPAT REMINGTONS.

As to the charge in General Villegas's despatch, that the arms with which Inacayal's Indians fought against Palacios were furnished by the colonists of Chupat, we are assured on very competent authority that the colonists, as usual, are a scapegoat to some very queer doings. When the General inspects the arms, possibly he may know them. It is to be hoped that the Government will order the strictest investigation into this business, as the British community are justly indignant at the charge against the Welsh colonists, so hastily and deliberately made in General Villegas's despatch, and feel that when the matter is sifted the saddle will be put on quite another horse. We know it will; and the sooner light is thrown on the subject the better.

FIGHT WITH THE INDIANS.

There has been another stiff fight with the Indians in the Cordillera. The following are the official despatches:—

Official—Most Urgent.

To the Minister of War.

Limay, March 8th, 1883.

As Your Excellency will see by the telegram which I send to the Commander of Arms, Commander Palacios has just fought a brilliant affair in the very heart of Patagonia, 125 leagues from here. Your Excellency will learn that the Chubut colonists carry on a constant traffic with the Indians, selling to them modern arms, and even repeating rifles. If the Government do not take some energetic step to stop this abuse, we shall in future have the Indians fighting our soldiers with arms as good or even better than their own, although the lesson they have now received will not leave them much for facing our troops again.

I salute Y. E.

General Villegas

Limay, March 8th.

To the Commander General of Arms.

Official—Most Urgent.

I have just received a communication from Commander Palacios in which he informs me that on the 22d inst., at a place called Apulique, 125 leagues S.E. from here, Captain Druby, of the 7th Cavalry, who was out on a scouting party with 25 men of his regiment, came across 400 Indians of Cacique Incayal's tribe and Tehuelches, with whom he had a bloody fight, and, on learning that the said officer was in difficulties, he (Commander Palacios) set out at full gallop with his whole force and, coming up with the Indians, charged them in flank and centre, putting them to flight in all directions, leaving 50 of them dead on the field, and a great number of wounded.

Our troops have captured a considerable number of cattle, but did not take any of the "chusma" prisoners as they were all sent off when the Commander's force was seen approaching. On our side we had one Indian of the auxiliary squadron killed. Captain Drubuy and Lieutenant Escola of the 1st Regiment of Artillery wounded, as also 11 privates of the 7th and Indian squadron, but none of the wounds are serious.

Commander Palacios reports that, amongst the Indians, there were over 60 armed with Remingtons and repeating rifles, sold to them by the Chubut colonists, with whom the Indians carry on a constant trade. As you will see, this scandalous abuse should be energetically suppressed, otherwise the sacrifices imposed on our troops in dealing with the savages will be utterly sterile, while the Indians are supported by the people who call themselves civilized.

The foregoing fact can be corroborated by those who carry on this trade in arms, and who were captured amongst the Indians by our men.

I recommend to the consideration of the Government the distinguished conduct of Captain Druby of the 7th, who, with only 25 men, fought gallantly against odds of sixteen to one, many of the enemy being armed with arms of precision, as I have already said. I also recommend the Chief of the Third Brigade, Lt. Colonel Palacios, and his officers and men, all of whom are worthy of the highest praise.

General Villegas.

Nahuel Huapi,
March 1st.

LONDON LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent)

THE CRISIS IN FRANCE.

February 2, 1883.

The Senate is yet to have its say on the subject, but, for the present, the acute stage of the expulsion question has been decided in favour of the compromise contained in the bill of M. Fabre. The second reading of that Bill was carried last night, a little before midnight, and after a very stormy discussion, by a large majority of 396 to 134.

The compromise, as it is called, is sufficiently stringent. The Chamber has voted that no member of a family which has reigned in France shall exercise any electoral function or fill any civil or military office; that any member of one of those families whose presence is calculated to compromise the State, may be exiled by a decree of the President of the Republic rendered in Council, and that any such person returning to France, without Government authorisation, shall be liable to imprisonment for a term of from one to five years.

The great difference between this Bill and that proposed by M. Floquet is, that the Princes, whilst not being able to serve in the army, will retain their military grades, besides their properties, and can continue to reside in France.

In view of Prince Napoleon's folly, and of the rather doubtful virtuousness of the Duc d'Aumale's citizenship, the Bill seems judicious. M. Grévy appears to think that the Senate will not reject it, in face of the large majority who voted for it in the Chamber of Deputies. However, the Senate may reject it, when, of course, the present Ministry will resign. M. Jules Ferry will be summoned, M. de Freycinet, and a dissolution will take place. What further mischief may arise from the excitement of the elections no one can say, but those best able to judge count upon the present apathy of the French people in politics, and on the impossibility of any other combination but that of the Republic, provided it is administered with anything like firmness and prudence. The existing administration, of which M. Falliéres is the head, is truly a scratch Ministry, and its predecessors were not much better. That is the great evil in France, where there are so many different groups, that none is strong enough to make a Government, and neutral and comparatively unknown men are put in power as warming pans.

M. Falliéres is young—not yet forty—and has made his way from the French bar to the Minister's fauteuil, by his talent, his fine jovial appearance and his wheedling manners. He was looked upon as a mild edition of Gambetta, but his start in office has not been favourable. Being accustomed to take care of his sleek person and retire early to rest, the late hours, occasioned by his duties and the excitement of the crisis, completely upset him. He broke down in his speech and has since been confined to his room. The Government Bill was introduced by his Under-Secretary of State, M. Develles, The Minister of Justice, M. Devés, refused to take it up, although he voted for it. He is not on good terms with M. Falliéres, who, from his military gait, goes by the nickname of "Le Capitaine Farriéres."

No Admiral, they say, would take the place of Minister of Marine, after the resignation of Jarriqueberry. The gentleman who now holds the position of the French First Lord of the Admiralty, is M. de Malay, a medical man. Still, he may make as good a First Lord as Mr. Smith, the new-sagent, or Mr. Childers, the "returned Australian."

The new Minister of War, General Thibaudin, was supposed to be under a cloud for having broken his parole in the German war. The General, however, has given satisfactory explanations. He was wounded at Bezonville, when every other officer was killed and his regiment literally cut to pieces by the German Cavalry, the White Cuirassiers. He said he was released as unfit for further service and sent home without parole. Afterwards, seeing a troop of Uhlans passing his house, he, in a patriotic fit, joined the national army organized by Gambetta, and served in the campaign on the Loire, where he was again wounded. At the close of the war, a Committee of Inquiry decided he had done his duty, and he was finally made a Divisional General by General Billot. In the debate, General Thibaudin said, very properly, he as a soldier had no opinion as to the Orleanist Princes, but, as a Minister, he followed his chief and the Legislature, and he would respond for the army remaining unmoved whatever decision is arrived at. The General is sixty, and of the usual military type in France—close-shaven face, with grey moustache, and little pointed beard.

There are always Jeremiahs ready to predict the fall of the Republic; and, I must confess, that at this moment, men like M. Jules Simon, representing the Conservative Republic, and M. Elisée Réclus, the scientific Anarchiste, have both expressed doubts as to the stability of the present regime. But Simon has always been a Job's comforter when even he was in the Government himself, and M. Réclus views life from his philosopher's chair at Vevay, and thinks nothing will be stable until we have got to the bottom, through Republicanism, Socialism and all the 'isms. Practical men look at the votes, and they find, notwithstanding M. Simon's lament, that people care nothing who is in or out of power, so long as the Bourse keeps up—that, making all allowances, there have been no more abstentions during the Republic than there had been for forty years previously, and that on the least favourable calculations the Republic has at this day a majority of 350,000 votes.

EXCURSION TO THE SOUTH.

THE PROVINCIAL PENITENTIARY.

Sierra Chica, Feb. 23, 1883.

After concluding my correspondence on Olavarria, I started for here, which is 2½ leagues distant. I have already stated that Sierra Chica forms with its few hills the western boundary of the level plain through which the extension of the Southern Railway runs. In it Don Eduardo Aguirre, Engineer, has found the finest granite that has yet been discovered in the ranges of mountains to the south of Buenos Ayres. Due to the explorations of Sr. Aguirre the Provincial Government has fixed on this place as the projected site for the Penitentiary, and at the same time to establish a "fabrica" to make paving-stones. Both will be installed once the Capital Penitentiary becomes a national institution.

It is not difficult to see the resemblance of this establishment to the famous "taller de adoquines" of the Dictator Latorre, in Montevideo, though God guard us from thinking that our Government had or has any idea of copying this vicious Latorreal Establishment, but simply to choose it as a model.

The system of cutting stones as work for criminals has been chosen above all others for the moral effect which this punishment can and must necessarily produce on them. It is composed of few words, concise and energetic, "stone cutting." Few can understand the real meaning of these two words; yet they comprise a lifetime, and, what's more, it is the very thing that has been so long needed.

Thus the report of Sr. Aguirre on his explorations of the Sierras was approved, and by virtue of which a law was decreed for the creation of the establishment, and a gang of criminals were sent down in March, 1882, to begin the preliminary work. Shortly afterwards a Governor of the Gaol was elected and employees installed, but very soon it was seen that these would not suit, and a radical change should take place about the middle of September. The administration was changed, and Don Pascual Uriarte, Inspecting Commissary of the Provincial Police, was elected to fill the vacant place, which he holds up to the present. On the arrival of this gentleman, they had only a galpon of galvanised iron, a few tents and a quarry that gave few and bad paving-stones.

Immediately everything was changed and the works for the building of the prison commenced. The iron galpon has been taken down, and one of stone erected in its place, with walls more than a metre in breadth, which is the sleeping apartment of the criminals. It is a strong building, well finished, and has good ventilation; it is guarded at both extremities, in one of which the guard lives. The criminals sleep on wooden bedsteads placed on iron benches; all have mattresses, and all are well treated. Their number at present reaches 22, but there is capacity for a larger number. The officers of the "Battalion Guardia de Carceles," who guard the place, have a rancho with a kitchen attached for their dwelling-place, and the soldiers have a large stone galpon, commodious and well sheltered.

The kitchen for the criminals with the forge and "the peons' habitation form one block of stone. The storehouse, the offices, the workshops, the tools deposit—all are subdivisions of a large wooden galpon solidly built.

There are besides stone corrals, wells for the supply of water, tilling grounds and plantations, with a stone house of six small rooms for the Governor and his family.

All this has been carried out by Sr. Uriarte, without more help from the Government than the small sum of $12,500 m/c to pay for wood, and even the supply of this was so small that he had to pay for the wood for his own dwelling. Naturally, all these constructions have cost nothing, as they have been erected by the criminals, who are not paid, since the establishment does not yet exist, though they have cut already 95,000 stones, piled up and ready for use.

The Penitentiary will include four "chacras," whose central is formed by the smaller hill of the two that constitute the Sierra Chica. There is a settler who holds a deed with the right to purchase part of these grounds, but he will place no obstacle in the way; and is willing to give up his claim in exchange for another piece of land of the same extent in the same locality.

Well it is that the grounds of the Penitentiary are bounded on all sides by cultivated chacras, as they are without a fence; and the first thing that will be done, and which will be commenced before a month and a-half at the furthest, is the building of a boundary wall seven metres high. When this is finished the Penitentiary will be commenced, which will be entirely built of bricks, on a radial system, capable of accommodating 240 prisoners, and containing 60 cells. Engineer Aguirre, who was here yesterday, informed me personally that he had specially studied this during the past month; he had gone into every detail, not only with regard to its building, but also to its organization. He had visited the quarries in the Oriental Republic, and he expected to be appointed director of the works here.

Commissary Uriarte, formerly a military man, lost no time in commencing his buildings; and though all he has done are only provisional, nevertheless they are worthy of great praise. In this manner this gentleman, and he alone, without any help, has formed this embryonic Penitentiary, establishing a normal regimen of works that to-day he presides over, and are carried out in the same manner as if the establishment was actually in working trim.

For the above works a quarry has been opened of very rich granite, and the men working it are divided into four distinct bodies, viz., borers, rough cutters, fine cutters, and "adoquineros." All these are under the supervision of a professional stone-cutter Sr. Fidel Roncnetti, who is the technical director of the establishment.

This man, as a stone-cutter, enjoys a wide-spread reputation, deserving justly the many eulogiums which his superiors, and even Engineer Aguirre, bestow on him. He is laborious, intelligent, energetic, and ardent; he is the only man of art in the house, and without him it is impossible to get on. Sr. Uriarte, though a man honoured and respected, and even organizer of the whole establishment, is yet deficient in technical knowledge of this description. Consequently, with Sr. Uriarte at the head of the establishment and Sr. Ronquetti managing the works, this trial Penitentiary has been a reality and not the iniquitous lie that it was when first started, when the Government money was wasted without any good results, and which fortunately the Government had the good luck to discover in time.

STATE OF FRANCE.

There is much uneasiness both in Europe and here about the state of affairs in France. At any moment we may have an explosion, and the following article of the Economist will be read with interest:—

"The true constitutional difficulty of France, which makes all Republican Governments weak, and creates all the panics which lead to such distrust both on the Bourse and abroad, is the position of the Army. It has become by far the strongest corporation in the country, while it is one of which the opinion is the last known. No one in France appears seriously to doubt that if the Army were strongly united in opinion and obeyed a single leader, that leader could not only overthrow the Government of the day—which is probably true of all armies, and certainly true of all the great armies of the Continent—but could found a very strong and orderly civil Government. The leader, it is supposed, would either nominate a Cæsar, necessarily a Bonaparte, or a King, necessarily a Bourbon, or a Dictator, almost necessarily himself, and this ruler would be supported by the peasantry, eager for order, with a plebiscite; the bureaucracy would yield with satisfaction, and all would go on as if there had been no revolution. There are no resources in France for local resistance or even disturbance. Lyons might have to be shelled, and Marseilles might descend into the streets, but centralisation has done its work, and there is no power anywhere but in the Assembly, which would be gagged, and the Army. It is more than fifty years since Malthus pointed out that this would be the result of the sub-division of property, and since 1848 it has been almost avowedly true. It is a movement of this kind which Republicans dread, which makes them see powerful Pretenders in Princes who have no civil following, which makes "crises" like the present deplorable one seem so important, which makes the question of the Princes' commissions more vital than that of their expulsion, which renders a temporary interregnum, such as has repeatedly occurred in our own Parliamentary history, so menacing. If the Army once became irritated or alarmed, it might act at once; and the feeling of politicians is that it would not act in vain, that resistance would be useless, and that it might found a Government which, like that of the Second Empire, would last until it was defeated on the field. Indeed, it is not quite certain that the Empire would have fallen even after defeat if the Army had not been locked-up; if Bazaine, for example, could have carried his force from Metz to Paris. He certainly thought not; and, traitor or not, he was an able man, upon whom the Bonapartists relied, and whom his own men would have followed in almost any enterprise. He would probably, had he escaped, have seated the Empress as Regent, and have ruled France in her son's name undisturbed for years.

"We have never seen an answer to this proposition, or been able to extract one from a Frenchman, except the vague one that the Army would not do it; and it is worth inquiry whether this is more than opinion. It is often said, and is being said in all manner of publications, particularly the English magazines, that the French Army is only the French people over again, and is therefore Republican; but is that quite true? The private soldiers are no doubt drawn from all France and from every French house; but still they are not the French people, but only the French unmarried lads between nineteen and twenty-two, ignorant, inexperienced, and full of that hatred of political inefficiency and slowness which makes all lads so impatient of Parliamentarism. They have nothing to fear from a change of Government, for no Government could incur their hostility, and a good deal to hope, for the Republic, though it has not yet completed a good military organisation, has made discipline very severe, and has shown a tendency in Tunis, and elsewhere, towards a great carelessness of conscripts. Moreover, the soldiery are not quite happy. They are not so much considered, socially, under the Republic; they are spoken of in Ultra journals with great roughness, and they are, during times of excitement threatened, and even attacked, by the people of the great cities in ways which, as they consider, are not sufficiently punished. Still, as they are much divided in opinion they might be trusted, but their officers are even more important than themselves. These officers form a corporation of a very peculiar kind. They are, in an immense majority, drawn from classes which may be called 'Orleanist,' that is, respectable and well-to-do, and not from the body of the people. They enter the service to remain in it for life; their hopes are concentrated in the corporation, and they are, therefore, exceedingly interested in every change which concerns its fortunes. If the Army is important in the State, they are important too. They have not become, as Mr Malthus thought they would, the best-paid persons in the State, but they have become the most considered, most independent, and most powerful. They alone are dreaded by the Chamber, and they alone of officials are not liable to the dismissal which Frenchmen dread so much, and describe by the expressive word destitution. Their commissions are by law their property, to such an extent that they regard the dismissal of the Orleans Princes from the Army as a confiscation of those Princes' property rights. The officers, therefore, are not unwilling to see changes which increase their weight in the State, more especially if the changes gratify a feeling very strong among military men in France. They submit to a single ruler, King or Emperor, or President very readily, but they dislike a régime in which lawyers and doctors and civil professionals generally are masters, with a very keen dislike. They might declare against it and if they did, their influence, supported as it would be by the habit of discipline, might carry their men, more especially the garrisons of Paris and Lyons, which are very large, and which have not for some years past been on good terms with the people. That they would do this while Gambetta was in front was most improbable, for owing to his history he had the position of a great general among them, and from his influence with individual generals there was always a dread that if he were attacked the Army would be divided, a contingency from which French officers shrink with a certain horror; but this security for the Republic ended with his life. A military movement, therefore, if improbable is always possible, and this gives weight to every Pretender however weak in civil support, and makes the adhesion and fidelity of almost every individual general matter of great moment. He is a possible Minister of War, and the Minister of War has in France all the powers of his Department plus those of a Commander in Chief, being possessed of the whole patronage which in other countries still belongs in military matters to the Crown.

Whether a movement is possible just now is another matter, on which the ablest Frenchmen express, and probably form, no definite opinion. There is certainly no Pretender, with the possible exception of the Duc d'Aumale, who is popular with the Army. The old officers who have a regard for the Empire are held in check by its terrible fall, and the younger officers are not devoted to any leader or any family. They have no professional chief who is trusted of even second rate rank, and no enterprise, except the impossible one of a war with Germany, upon which they would be glad to enter. They are not believed to be united, and the rapid changes of Ministry have greatly diminished the authority even of the supreme bureau. At the same time they are not contented; they view with distrust the rise of the Ultras, many of whom are opposed to standing armies, and they expect, many of them, a catastrophe on the expiration of M. Grevy's term, which they think might as well come now. If they could find a chief with a plan they might not be unwilling to move, and found a Government which, Republican or otherwise, would be much more personal than the present, and alike in its agents and its objects much more purely military. They may find such a leader yet, and we do not wonder that eminent men in France who know the barracks regard with uneasiness the turmoil of opinion, and the possibility that the Assembly may take some step which will affront or alarm the Army.

THE MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

We extract the following from the last report:—

From Rosario the arrival of the Rev. Mr. Tyerman is reported, who gives a favourable account of that city, and the missionary work carried on:—

Very soon we were abreast of the town, which to me looked very peculiar. The buildings seemed all of white, with flat roofs; and there were quite a number of vessels discharging or taking in cargo.

Before the ship was made fast, I, being on the look-out, saw a gentleman coming down the hill, and whom I guessed to be Mr. Lett; for once I guessed rightly, it was he. I need not tell you how pleased we were to meet; at the captain's invitation he dined with us. The next day being Sunday, he sent for us to church, and oh! what a delight it was once again to take part in the public worship of the Almighty God. We were exceedingly pleased with the church, the pictures of which are very faithful. The inside is quite as nice as the outside, and the service is all to my mind. After service Mr. Lett took me into the school; this also deserves the highest praise. The splendid discipline, as also the ready manner in which the children answered to the catechising, was especially pleasing to me. The school seemed quite full. I took charge of a class of boys.

On Monday we left the ship and went to the English hotel; here we soon found gentlemen who attend the church. We were very comfortable, and everyone was kind to us. After a week at the hotel we found apartments in Calle Urquiza, where we are now staying.

The town is not so bad after all as we expected to finds it. The pavements in some parts are bad, and there is dust 'ad libitum,' but, with these exceptions, Rosario to my mind is nice. Some of the houses are very beautiful, and are like palaces. The streets being laid out on the chess-board fashion, it is not difficult to find your way about.

The houses are mostly one-storied, but the room are lofty and comfortable. The weather is now hot, and rain is much needed.

EDITOR'S TABLE

The sensation of yesterday was General Villegas's telegram about the fight in Patagonia, which will be found in another column. The Indians were beaten badly.

The R.M.S. Minho arrived at Montevideo yesterday morning, and we suppose the mails will be up this morning (N. S. T. N. P.) General Osborne, U.S. Minister, is on board.

The steamer Bearn brings European dates to February 15th. The second Conference on the Danubian Question was held in London on the 10th, but great secrecy prevailed as to what was going on. The inundations in Cincinnati and Ohio were still increasing. The gas in the city of Cincinnati was extinguished. It was said that Prince Napoleon would issue another manifesto when he arrived in England.

We have no later English papers than February 5th, but see in the Paris Figaro of the 10th that Kavanagh, the man who drove the murderers of Lord Cavendish and Mr. Burke to and from the Phœnix Park on the day of the crime, had turned Queen's evidence and has identified the four assassins. There are six more men arraigned for having aided and abetted the crime. Prince Napoleon was liberated by order of the Appeal Court, which declared that he had in no way broken the law by his manifesto.

Yesterday, about noon, when we felt our hair smouldering and smoking from the awful heat; when Croppi's thermometer marked 95 in the shade, and a beefsteak could have been cooked "a la minute" on the flags in our patio, the polished Secretary of that humanising institution, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, rushed into our office and told us in confidence that it is earnestly requested that those persons who joined this Society last year, and who, up to the present, have not received their cards, diplomas and reglamento, will be so kind as to send to the Secretary, Calle Santiago del Estero 687, the street and number of their residence, so that he may be enabled to make up this deficiency.

The square in Calle Suipacha, between Piedad and Cangallo, which has been paved on "Nettleship's system of Wood-paving," will be opened to public traffic to-morrow (Sunday) morning. The contractor invites those who use horses and vehicles of any description to try same over said square, so as to be able to give their opinion on the advantages of the new system over that of stone-paving. The advantages claimed for this system are:—Safety, comfort, easy traction, noiselessness, durability, less destruction of horse shoes, also of carriage tyres and springs, the vibration being greatly reduced, small radiation of heat. This system can be laid with rapidity, and repairs to sewers on gas pipes effected with facility, and without in anyway injuring or weakening the original foundation. It is impervious to water and, owing to its general solidity and great strength of foundation, this pavement will be found to require less frequent removals than other systems, thus securing a smaller amount of obstructions to the public traffic, and in the end much cheaper.

The National Government has felt bound to decline the polite invitation from Downing Street to attend the Fishery Exhibition in London next month, but has sent the prospectus and all particulars to the Governors of all the provinces, to publish them, so that all who run may read all about it. This is a capital joke, almost too good for this tremendously hot weather. However, the publication of the prospectus will be welcome fish for the usually empty advertising nets of our colleagues in the Interior.

"To the Germania to-night!" is the "mot d'ordre" for all Germans, and those who sympathise with them, to unite the agreeable with the good. The performance to come off to-night in the spacious saloons of this patriotic Club promises to be a treat for all, and the receipts will help to relieve the sufferers in Vaterland. "Hans Jürgo" is a piece taken from the life of the German peasantry, which the famed author, C. von Holtei, describes with great truth. "Dr. Peschke oder Kleine Herren" is full of wit and humour, and will make even the greatest hypocondriac laugh. Between the two pieces a piece of poetry, describing the floods, will be read by its author. After the performance there will be a ball. On the whole, the entertainment promises to be a splendid one, and we are sure its pecuniary result will equal the efforts made, as the Germans have always an open hand when there is a necessity to help the distressed here or in dear Vaterland. Entrance tickets at $50 m/c may be obtained at the Club room, Calle Tucuman No. 385.

There was another "choque" on Thursday on the Northern Railway, corner of Pilar and Paseo de Julio. The high "chocante" parties were a train and a bullock cart. Result, bullocks killed, cart smashed, but the driver hopes to live to make the price of another.

Our European exchanges report that the latest thing in paper manufacture is a waterproof manilla paper, which is used for lining both the outside and the inside of buildings. It is also used for floor-cloth when prepared and treated in almost precisely the same way as ordinary oilcloth. The paper in this case takes the place of the canvas bottom or foundation of the oil-cloth, and, it is said, possesses many advantages. Among others it does not like oilcloth, expand with age. Probably we shall soon read of a company advertising their patent-waterproof coats.

The Municipality of Rio is not very popular with the Press there, judging from the following free and easy paragraph in our esteemed contemporary, the Rio News:—

"At a session of the illustrious aldermanic beargarden on the 22nd inst. the president refused admission to the Cruzeiro reporter, because he had been uncivil to the secretary. It was thought that the Cruzeiro should send men of "boa educação" to enjoy the society of the Aldermen. Several aldermen objected to the exclusion, and a hot discussion ensued which resulted in a vote to sustain the president. Hereafter the Cruzeiro must send an educated bear to the sessions of our heroic legislature."

There is another pow-wow getting up about the delay in distributing the prizes awarded at the Continental Exhibition. It is certainly about time that the winners should see the colour of their medals, although at the time quite a number of them turned up their noses at the prizes given them. Such is life.

There was a grand Lottery banquet at Lomas on Thursday, given by Mr. Crux, who won the 20,000 pats prize on that day.

President Roca signed over 400 official documents on Thursday. Rather a hard day's work—almost as hard as editing a newspaper.

The Municipal campaign against all Lotteries that could compete with that of the Capital appears to have been abandoned; the Uruguay and other Lotteries have paid the Patente, 2,000 pats., to be allowed to work away. The Capital is the only really safe Drawing of the lot.

We hear on good authority that Mr. William Martin is determined to excel himself in the amateur dramatic campaign during the coming winter. What do you think, readers, is to be the play produced for the funds of the proposed Orphanage for boys? Nothing more or less than the famous 'Colleen Bawn'! We believe a young Irish lady, recently arrived, will take the role of the heroine. "Viva Martin!"

Not content with making coffee out of date stones, the inventive genius of the age promises to produce us cheese that has never seen the inside of a diary. For a long time past, it appears, the Chinese and Japanese have indulged, with much satisfaction, in a very remarkable kind of bean which grows in that region; but some energetic European has found out that this bean, owing to the greasy matter and the albumen which it contains, can be worked up into an excellent cheese. The bean is, therefore, to be imported into the South of France, and, if it thrives, we are promised cheese which will rank with nothing less than the very best Parmesan. We shall be much surprised if a bean cheese company does not issue a prospectus before long.

Telegrams from Valparaiso say that the Argentine and Chilian commanders of the detachments engaged in the recent rencontre have been exchanging notes, regretting the occurrence. The Chilian ensign buried two Argentine corpses, but that of the officer could not be found. Two of the Chilian soldiers were found with their throats cut.

There can be little doubt as to the progress that once-neglected Bahia Blanca is making. During January and February over 700 European emigrants of all nationalities landed there. Two new schools are about to be established.

The Admiral Brown is at last going to make a move, instead of eating her head off at Ensenada. She is ordered round to the Pacific.

The funeral of Mr. Daniel Gowland took place yesterday and was very largely attended, showing the universally high esteem in which the venerable deceased was held. The cortege would have been still larger but for the inconvenient place from which it started. The Rev. James Smith, M. A., officiated. Amongst those present we remarked Messrs. Jorge Butner, Francisco Madero, Dr. Emilio de Alvear, General Arredondo, Emilio Castro, Félix Pico, Dr. Lucio V. Lopez, Carlos Lumb, Juan Fair, Vicente Casares, Eduardo Costa, Mariano Billinghurst, Dr. Magnanini, Francisco Moreno, Carlos A. Mansilla, Eugenio Garzon, Emilio Casares, Edelmiro Costa, Alberto Halbach, Livingstone, Cooper, Hoevel, Dowse, Mackinlay, Passman, Rubio, Foley.

General Mitre leaves to-day for Campana to-day some notes there for his "Life of General San Martin," now nearly finished.

The Libertad and Union lay great stress on the news we gave some days ago about the movement in England against showy and costly funerals, as ineffably vulgar! That's the word to do the business. Stick to the vulgarity of the thing, colleagues, and half the undertakers in town will soon have to shut up shop and turn sheep-farmers.

The Inspector of public buildings in New York, Mr Esterbrook, reports that, by properly separating the proscenium from the auditorium in theatres, in case of a fire on the stage, the audience will be able to remain and witness it in perfect safety. Commend us to our American Cousins for startling 'notions', and this is certainly one.

The distribution of prizes at the Rev. Mr. Spilsbury's School in Flores took place on Thursday evening. All the leading families of the place were present. The singing was beautiful, and the ceremony not too long. The School is now progressing so well that the second master of the Norwich Grammar School has come out from England to assist the Rev. Principal.

THE LORETO CAMPS.

Sir,

I observe in your issue of yesterday about the Loreto Camps, as being of notoriety in the last century from having been the place where Genl. Arascaete fought and beat the Indians, and for which the Government gave him 300 leagues of land for his great victory. Another battle was fought in the year 1838 on that very spot where you and the rest of the excursionists lunched on last Saturday; the Indians came close to the town of Rojas and swept nearly all the cattle and horses from near that town, part of the Arroyo Dulce, and the outskirts of Pergamino; Rosas sent the late Colonel Hilario Lagos (who had been an officer of Rauch in the Hussars) and the then Governor of Santa Fe, Don Juan Pablo Lopez (Mascarilla) to follow them up and retake the booty; the combined forces met at the Arroyo Pelado, now the property of Don Eduardo Casey, and following the trail of the savages until near the old fort of Loreto, when Lagos ordered Lopez to get behind the Indians and charge them in the rear, and to go as quietly as possible in order to encircle them and take the whole lot, and he (Lagos) would charge them in front, as they were mostly on foot, some few breaking in potros, others cooking, some sleeping, and in fact all completely off their guard; had Mascarilla obeyed those orders not an Indian would have escaped, as Lagos had 400 veteran soldiers and Lopez 120 men, such as they were, without any kind of discipline; and when, within three or four squares commenced to yell and shout by which means many of the Indians got on horseback and cleared out, Lagos followed them until the next morning, when his horses being completely done up, he returned to find at the Laguna de Loreto Mr Mascarilla quietly encamped there, and his men collecting all the horses the Indians had left, and even some of the tropillas that the estancieros had lent to Lagos, and were sending them off to Santa Fe; Lagos was so enraged at this rascality that he told Lopez, if it was not for Don Juan Manuel Rosas, he would turn his squadron on to the Santafecinos and annihilate the whole of them, for they were worse than the Indians. I was at Rojas a few days after the squadron came back and Lagos related to me what I have written; he and I were on terms of friendship, besides being a neighbour of mine having an estancia on the Arroyo Fontezuelas, now the property of Don Federico Roth; he told me a many incidents of the expedition, of the bravery of the Indians when attacked single-handed, as frequently occurred during the rout, and the disgust he had for Mascarilla in not obeying his orders; had he done so not an Indian would have escaped. He was never tired of praising his old Commander Rauch, and lamented that such a superior soldier should have lost his life in a Revolution; he always said that if Rauch had lived he would have finished all the Indians, such was his great genius and tact in attacking them.

I hope the next time you go to Pergamino you will give a description of the land belonging to others along the line.

Apologizing for these few lines
I remain &c.

JOHN O'CONNOR JR.

IN MEMORIAM

A meeting of the students of Holy Cross College was held yesterday to take action on the death of one of its members, John O'Connor jr., one of the brightest boys the College has known. The meeting was held in the Study Hall, Dr. Grace acting as chairman; and he spoke with a great deal of feeling of the deceased had after remarks of a kind and loving character had been made by many of the students present. At the close of Dr Grace's address scarcely a dry eye was to be seen among the boys. "Johnny" was a very popular boy as well as being bright and able, having delivered the welcome address at the last Annual Commencement of the College, a month from which time he was buried. The following resolutions were passed:—

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from among us our dear and much esteemed friend and classmate John O'Connor, the beloved son of John and Natalia O'Connor of Entre Rios, be it resolved—

That while yielding with submission to the will of Almighty God we deeply mourn the loss of a dear and faithful companion and friend. A good and affectionate class mate, a kind and considerate pupil, and among us a distinguished scholar, and one whom we shall always miss.

Ayer's Hair Vigour

(A DESIDERATUM)

For restoring the Natural Vitality and Colour of the Hair.

Prepared according to scientific and physiological bases with the object of bettering the condition of the hair, it stimulates the enfeebled glands of the scalp into healthy action, arrests the falling of the hair and promotes its luxuriant growth; rendering it soft, youthful and glossy.

This excellent preparation, the best and without doubt the only one as a remedial agent for the many defects and diseases to which the hair is subject, calls for and merits the most serious attention of all those who have had the misfortune to lose partially this most beautiful and natural ornament. AYER'S HAIR VIGOUR employed intelligently has obtained really surprising results. Faded or grey hair it restores to its original colour; and lost hair is often, but not always, reproduced.

It has always PREVENTED FALLING of the hair; whilst as a dressing ladies say it is the most agreeable as it is the most beneficent. Containing neither dye nor oil, it does not soil the finest cambric.

The Rev. Mr. Smith

Testimonial Fund.

At the General Meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Buenos Ayres, held on the 31st January, 1883, attention was called to the near approach of the time when the Rev. James Smith's official connection with the Church and people of Buenos Ayres would cease. The propriety of some manifestation being made by the Community on this occasion, to mark its appreciation of a life's work, having been mooted and unanimously recognised, it was resolved that such manifestation should assume the form of a pecuniary gift to the Rev. Gentleman, and a Committee was at the same time nominated with the view of carrying such resolution into effect.

In pursuance of this resolution, the Committee beg to inform the Community who sympathise with them in the matter, that Subscription Lists for signature will be found at the undermentioned places.

Other Lists will be forwarded to some of the outlying districts of Buenos Ayres and the Oriental Republic. Members residing at a distance, desirous of taking part in this manifestation, and who may not have access to any of these List-sheets, can obtain them upon application to the Honorary Secretary, David Methven jun., Calle Reconquista 89, who will also be ready to receive any particular subscription towards the same object up to March 15th, prox,

ON 'CHANGE.

March 9th, 1883

Patacon.....	25.00
Cedulas A	100½
Cedulas E	85½
National Bank Shares....	108¾
Municipal Bonds 6 o/o ..	84½

Notwithstanding the excessive heat there was a brisk business at the ring to-day. National Bank Shares took a jump, owing to the news that the loan is all but done, two million pats. advance on the stocks held by the Bank; the business is being done they say by a Belgian Baron; Messrs. Acosta and Alkaine the brokers. All the bears who have been selling short turned round and bought in freely to-day, and hence the sudden rise in the stock.

Cedulas present no change, they attracted less attention, owing to the push in the National Bank Shares.

Municipal Bonds done at 84½, which is an advance on last prices.

Exchange for the Maskelyne has opened at current rates, but some brokers say they find it hard to get bills, as the drawing houses stand out for the Bank rate 49½ and refuse ½.

Governor Rocha with his Ministers and Sr. Uriburu took a run out this morning to the Prize Stock Farm Santa Catalina, to have a look at Exeter and see how things proceed out there. We hear many complaints about the management, but as it is hard to please everyone, and we have never seen the farm, we can offer no opinion. The idea of starting the farm was certainly good.

The drought continues and the heat is tremendous; strange wondrous fact, it has rained everywhere save on the inside lands, where it is so much wanted; the state of the near camps is something desperate, the outside lands as a rule are much better. Men are on the road to-day with their stock who will never return to those eaten-up partidos. The fire in Lineoln we hear is out, but while it lasted it was indeed terrible.

The Argentine squadron, we hear, is on the move, and the great Almirante Brown is ordered to Bahia Blanca and San Blas. Commander Rivadavia is now actively engaged placing the buoys in the channel of that fine harbor. The Brown and Parana, we hear, will also proceed to Magellan Straits and enter the Pacific.

To-day was the worst day yet on 'Change in the way of heat; all the brokers in white clothes, and all with fans. Everyone talked of the great heat, so unusual in March; a German merchant stated that we had precisely the same weather in March 1871, the memorable yellow fever year; there can be little doubt that the present weather is most unhealthy, and the state of the city is such that we are exposed to great epidemic danger.

The Board of National Bank Directors at its meeting yesterday decided to-day on the table the project for paying up cash for the shares, the matter not to be discussed at all this year. This subject gives rise to great argument, as many parties insist on their right to pay up all calls on the shares, which would of course supply the Bank with a large amount of fresh capital, most convenient for the Bank, if the London loan on the National Bonds is not done; but we apprehend that if the Directors agreed to the terms of the petition, the shares would be knocked down to a very low price, and the Directors must always consult the shareholders' interests.

The Bank Committee has approved of the books and the accounts of the National Bank, and also of the proposed 5 o/o dividend, which we apprehend settles this question and leaves no further room for argument.

Mr. Luro has just sold 2,000 potro hides at 21½ deliverable on 15th April—Tuyu.

The saladero killing goes slow, and they don't think the faena will reach last year's. Contracts are yet running and have to be filled. Contracts are yet running and have to be filled. some sales of jerked beef for Havannah at 39 to 41 rls.; two years ago this beef was worth 50 rls. Beef for Brazil selling at 45 rls against 60 rls two years ago. It is thought the saladeristas will not do much in April and May; the "seca" being against them.

City offices were never more looked for than at present. Scarcely a day passes that somebody does not call on us to know if we think of moving, or if we would like to sell the key. It is rather a good sign to see offices and stores in such great demand, and proves that the market is growing fast.

It is now known that the wool clip this year will give a yield of 10 per cent. over last year's, and the number of bales estimated for this clip is up to the high figure of 275,000 bales. Next year we shall probably touch 300,000 bales. There are men in hundreds in this market who never expected to live to see the wool export reach 300,000 bales.

The Lord Mayor and the new Bolsa Committee are the talk on 'Change. The brokers laugh at the idea of the Lord Mayor offering an opinion on a matter in which he has no jurisdiction. On the other hand the Mayor says he rules the town, the Bolsa is the most important place in town, and he will not consent to any such Bolsa premises as those proposed; the quarrel is a very pretty one as it stands.

The reduction in the United States duties on wool is only 2 cents per lb., yet small as this may appear, it is always $12½ % per arrobe, which is ample margin to allow one of our heavy exporters to empty three barracas last Wednesday.

The ss. Bearn entered this morning and landed close on 400 immigrants, making over 1,200 that have arrived this week, splendid returns.

The Villarino leaves Patagones to-morrow, Saturday. She brings up a large lot of wool bought down there at $10-42 % per arrobe, also hides and sheepskins, and many passengers.

Mr James Kincaid, of Rio Negro, at present in Glasgow, has written out stating that he will return in next trip of Maskelyne. We have not heard if he succeeded in getting a new little steamer for Rio Negro.

President Roca informed Mr Fair the other evening that the Government will have out a much larger steam dredge, and that next year the largest steamers, having 22 feet water, will be able to enter the Boca.

It appears that the Nat. Government has received from the United States some very magnificent offers for the construction of various public works in this country, the proposing contractor offer to supply everything, men, brains and money. Was ever man to be more envied than our National Minister of Hacienda, Dr Romero, who rides on a tidal wave of prosperity that beats up the very stairs of the Government House since the very morning he entered office. If the American contractors make all our public works, the question will be what will Dr Romero do with all the money. The exchange brokers are the deadliest enemies of H.E., they watch him as a cat watches a mouse, and every pound he has remitted is talked of at the ring, and the money also that went to pay for the bills.

The War Minister is occupied drawing up a new frontier line in the Chaco; we saw the military map; it looks very fine, and will give increased security to the various colonies up there; the War Minister says that with a handful of troops he will sweep off the Indians and give 50,000 leagues of new territory to the land brokers of the Capital to sell for cash or on time for account of Government.

The sales at the ring were as follows:—

Cedulas—
For cash A 2,000 at 100½
For cash E 10,000 at 85½
For March 10th E 5,000 at 85½

Municipal Bonds 6 o/o—
For March 31st 10,000 at 84½

Mr. Grigg, one of our leading city brokers, leaves to-night for Montevideo—a week's bathing.

Mr. Chaves McDonald, of Sta. Fé, was welcomed, also Mr. Graham, the acting manager of the Central Argentine Railway during Mr. Fisher's absence. Mr. C. L. Bowers is expected up in the morning with family, also General Osborne, U. States Minister.

Bank Shares at afternoon ruled very firm; 700 sold at 104½ without and 109½ with dividend. To-morrow the Bank will call a meeting of shareholders. Cedulas, 18,000 bought at 85½ for end of month; stock firm. Fondos Publicos 81, in demand; about 50,000 bought at 71½ to 72½.

Discount brokers report money at the banks very tight, and only the Provincial and National at all liberal. Some seven millions % in pagares done to-day.

El Jueves 15 de Marzo

A las 2 p.m.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y sin limitacion de ninguna clase, los mas afamados campos de la Provincia de Santa Fe conocidos por Loreto distantes unicamente 25 leguas de Pergamino, 6 de la colonia Iriondo, 10 de la colonia Alvear (La Teodolina) 13 de la Estacion Tortugas del Ferro Carril Central Argentino, 16 de la Cañada de Gomez, Estacion del mismo Ferro Carril y entre el Ferro Carril de la Provincia a 400,000 $ estan mas distantes de la Capital que estos que ofrecemos en venta.

Ademas con la rapidez que se estan construyendo los Ferro Carriles y ramales en la Republica demuestran claramente que en un corto tiempo la poblacion va a estenderse extraordinariamente y entonces toda la propiedad rural tiene que triplicar en valor, de manera que cuando llegue a venderse el ultimo plazo el comprador se encontrara con una propiedad valiosa.

La calidad del campo se garante igual al Venado Tuerto por lo tanto creemos inutil entrar en mayores descripciones sobre el terreno, sus pastos etc, ademas la persona que quiera ver y examinarlos puede toma la Galera que va del Pergamino al Hinojo ocurriendo por la pasage gratis al Sr D. Eduardo Casey Reconquista num. 80.

El campo sera dividido en lotes de ½ (media) legua teniendo el comprador el derecho de tomar cuatro leguas por el mismo precio.

Todos los lotes seran vendidos sin reserva ni ninguna clase al mas alto postor y el pago se hara una cuarta parte al contado y el resto en cuatro anualidades con el 7 o|o de interes.

NOTA—No olvidarse que el remate se efectuara aqui en la Capital calle Alsina 78.

Remataremos a la mas alta postura y dinero de contado, por orden terminante de su dueño, los campos arriba mencionados, situados en la Secciones III y IX de territorios Nacionales letras D, y C, numeros 11, 15 y 2.

El area total se compone de 10 leguas kilometricas, que pueden facilmente dividirse en 2 fracciones, una de 4 y la otra de 6 leguas y si los interesados los desean en lotes de dos leguas.

Esta seccion es una de la mas pobladas, debido a la bondad de sus pastos y calidad de sus tierras, adecuados para la cria del ganado vacuno y lanar.

Esta campo dista 3 leguas del pueblo General Acha, don le existen fuerzas Nacionales, y sabido es la importancia que tiene la inmediacion de un pueblo en estas alturas para que entremos aqui a demostrarlo.

Al costado mismo esta un Establecimiento, parte alambrado, del Sr. D Augusto Escandy, poblado por el señor Capdeville, con 2,500 vacas, 500 yeguas, y 3000 ovejas y los otros linderos son:

Augusto Escandy, Simon, Obligado, Hurtado y Martinez A. Meabe y otros.

Sin contar un numero crecido de nuevos pobladores que estan esperando que llueva para llevar las haciendas que tienen ya compradas.

Creemos por demas llamar la atencion de los interesados sobre la importancia que tendran estos campos una vez terminada la linea del Ferro Carril del Sud a Bahia Blanca.

Demostradas todas las ventajas solo nos queda decir que la base de ps. 30,000 $ por legua fijada para la venta es sumamente baja, en vista de las recientes ventas que se han hecho de campos situados mucho mas afuera.
